Thanks to continuous research and the use of innovative cutting-edge production methods, Sagitter liquids become "ecological". The health of the individual is increasingly at the center of the attention of Italian industries, the production processes are upset to guarantee respect for the environment: this is why Sagitter has chosen to take the path of ecology for production and development of the new liquids for smoke machines and bubbles, made entirely with raw materials of "vegetable origin" that provide the liquid with a winning characteristic, that of the complete absence of toxic or harmful substances for health, always guaranteeing the best performance on the market. The entire ECO line is completely produced in Italy, the compounds are water based and designed to not release bothersome and harmful oily residues to surrounding objects
